Description

It brings to the epidermis the reconstituted natural moisturizing factor (NMF - Natural Moisturizing Factor) that is the set of those elements (lactates, serine, sorbitol etc.) which naturally keep the epidermis hydrated and which following unsuitable cleansing and cosmetic practices it is removed from the skin, which thus loses the elements that keep it hydrated. Contains Aloe Vera extract (Aloe Barbadensis) which is rich in mucopolysaccharides, substances with a high moisturizing activity.

How to use: after cleansing and toning, apply a few drops of High Hydration Serum on the face and let them absorb by spreading them with your fingertips.
