Description

It favors the natural processes of recovery during the night, a period in which the skin is less stressed and more receptive, bringing in-depth biocompatible substances with proven soothing, vasoprotective and decongestant activities, particularly necessary to counteract the blemishes of the skin-induced epidermis.

It nourishes without weighing it down, performs a moisturizing action of great intensity and duration, while a vitamin complex acts as a stimulant of skin function and as an adjunct to epidermal restructuring.

It is an effective product against skin aging, in full compliance with the particular needs of skins with couperose and also indicated for sensitive skin.

It gives a deep and lasting sensation of freshness and well-being, eliminates any sense of tension and reduces redness due to external agents. A highly effective cocktail for the skin, in the morning, it will find itself smoother and full of energy.

APPLICATION

In the evening on cleansed and toned skin, apply a few drops to the face and let it penetrate gently tapping.
